Eliana Venus was a beloved wife, mother, grandmother, sister, aunt, and friend. Eliana Venus was born to parents Tius Delve and Charite Pierre on February 15, 1950 in St. Michel De L'atalaye Haiti. From a young age she loved to cook and as a young girl she took culinary classes in Haiti to sharpen her cooking skills. In 1977 she met the love of her life Philippe Venus and they were married for 44 years. They were blessed with two children, her late son Evens and daughter Nancy. Her and husband left Haiti and migrated to the United States in 1981 for a better life. She was a hard-working woman and believed that hard work was the way to success. She worked as a CNA and loved helping people so much that she started her own private CNA business to serve her own personal clients. Her patients loved her and would recommend her to other clients. In her spare time, she loved talking on the phone with friends for hours about church, business, cooking, family and everything in between. Eliane also loved fashion and loved to shop for cloths.
