“ I'm so upset that you are gone because it wasn't expected and there was so much more I wanted to experience with you and my daughters and grandson. I feel like they are going to miss out on knowing who you were and getting to know your humor and joking around with them...and I am part to blame for that because I didn't make enough time to get them to Florida to see you more often. I'm sorry and I love you. I will always miss you. I hope any suffering was minimal. I will always remember when I lived in Florida going on our lunches and hunting for fruit. Mainly mangos. It hurts so much.
