“ I just learned today of Jack's passing. I count myself fortunate to be one of the many who called him friend. He was the most caring and considerate of men, always ready to help in any way. His humor and intellect were remarkable. He is one of those people who made the world a better place and he will be missed. My condolences to his brother, sister-in-law and all his many friends.

“ Have you ever awakened from a dream and thought "thank God it was a dream"? Hearing about the death of my friend Jack Cole is like that kind of dream except this isn't a dream. I met Jack in 1975 in Ogunquit, ME and we have maintained a friendship since and I am sadden by his passing. I will miss my friend and the many times we chatted via phone or email and our meetings for Mexican Lunch. There were many sides to Jack's life and even though I didn't always agree with some of his choices (and he mine) I respected his decision to live his life to the fullest; as he wanted. Our friendship was unique and long-lasting and one that cannot be replaced. Rest In Peace my friend. You were a very loving, caring friend and I will not forget you.

Jack was a wonderful friend. Numerous times I would call him on Friday afternoons right after work and stop by. He was always happy with Buster, his beloved cat. Life is capricious- at times, I cannot believe that he's gone. I will miss meeting him on Friday afternoon or receiving his uplifting emails. We are just passengers in this world. Rest In Peace my friend.

“ My deepest sympathy to Jack's family and friends. I was shocked to get the call that he died. He was a good friend and I will miss him very much.
I met Jack in 1968 in Syracuse, NY when I was 19 and he as 24 working at MONY. We kept in touch and remained friends all those years with occasional visits with him visiting me in CA a couple times and me going to FL a few times.
Rest in peace dear friend.
