

Nevil A. Grandison

November 27, 1940 - August 12, 2019

In Memoriam

Sunrise: November 27, 1940

Sunset: August 12, 2019

Nevil Asquith [a.k.a Derick] Grandison, born Wednesday, November 27, 1940 in the district of Green Park, Clarendon, Jamaica of parents Burchelle and Louise. He pursued the trade of Carpentry at an early age.

At age 19, Nevil first migrated to England, then onto Canada, and finally the United States of America. He worked very hard as a Pipe-fitter, Welder, and Plumber. Nevil lived a very independent life. He was a fashionable dresser and style icon. He also had a great passion for the sport of Horse racing, farming, and listening to music. Nevil was an endless giver, jovial, and free spirited person. Now he is resting in peace, free from sickness, and will be sadly missed by his devoted wife Norma, children, siblings, grandchildren, family, and friends.

“ From: cousin Flo & siblings , our deepest condolences to The Grandison's family, Derrick, you were here just now, and in the twinkle of an eye you are gone. The good Lord saw your pain and took you home to a resting place where there are no pain or sufferings. R.I.P. my cousin. The good Lord be with the family at this time.

“ Memories from Barbara

When I arrived in England Nevil was at the airport to receive me. Although I missed being away from home he was one of the main people to help me settle. Those early days hold a few fond memories, one being when he used to visit our aunt Hilda and I, she used to feed him as soon as he arrived but he still had to come upstairs to eat his sister's dinner. As our father used to say Nevil has got a very good appetite. I can't believe our lovely brother is not here with us anymore. The last time I saw with him was when our mother passed away nine years ago. Thank god I had the opportunity to speak with him while he was in the hospital and also when he was discharged. My family and I hope his soul rest in peace. Your eldest sister Barbara
