“ My Friend From Shrewsbury

*I have so many memories of Shirley, we talked about growing up in New Orleans. Each area had different sayings/tags, for me I grew up in the 9th ward and we would say, “I’m from the 9 and we don’t mind dying,” and Shirley grew up in the Shrewsbury area and she said they would say, “I’m from the Bury and we’re not scary.” I thought that was so funny but true and befitting of her. She was not scared, she took on a challenge head on: She would see a handful of flowers and turn them into a stunning bouquet; she would see a basket and turn it into tears of love and joy; she would see an empty table and turn it into a fantasy and room into a great adventure for any occasion whether it was a birthday party like she did for her mother so many times; or for a baby shower, wedding reception or when she did her first prom in West Palm Beach with an African theme which turned out to be stunning and spectacular. No she was not scared that’s why she left ahead of us to be there to greet us with beautiful flowers, and baskets full of joy and love, tables prepared to please our palates in a room we have to see to believe. She was from the “Bury” and was not scary!
Rest my friend and be at peace!!! Your friend Yvonne from the 9!!!*
