“ My dad was amazing not because of his accomplishment on earth because he would let nothing deter him away from God. I know his life was recorded in heaven but I can testify how he live his life on earth which was serving God to the fullest. He was a simple man on earth and kept his eyes on the prize which was God. Nothing on this earth really impressed him to much but worshipping God and living the life according to the word of God. I remember one time we stop going to church for awhile and he still press on to serve God. He always said he would let nothing shake his faith in God and he kept his promise. One of his favorite songs was May the Work I Done Speak for Me by the consolors. It has been a month now since he passed and I still mourn however, what gives me peace everyone who knew him call him a man of God and how he always went to church. I thank God for giving me my dad and I only have good memories of him talking about the word of God, singing country gospel music, and helping the church. I know in my heart he's a peace. Love you Dad.
