“ In Loving Memory of Granddad

As I sit and write this, a host of memories flood my mind. From the very first time we met, we become one big family. It was not Mr. & Mrs. Cromartie, it was Nana and Granddad. Granddad and my Dad “Deac” immediately bonded, and became instant friends. That’s the kind of man Granddad was. A lot could be said, but I will keep my writing simplistic.

I will never forget the baritone speaking voice that he had, a strong commanding voice that flowed from a gentle giant. He was a man of grace, kindness and tenderness, yet you understood the he was not to be played with. His character required and demanded that level of honor & respect. While I wish I had called one more time, I can rest in the fact that I was very intentional to tell him how much I loved him and how I greatly valued him.

Rest On Granddad. You made your life count. Thank you for the talks and the laughs. I will cherish them always.
